LUCKY STOP MINE

GILA CO.

KP/WR 12/5/78 - Lester Cox, Globe, is the owner of the Lucky Stop Mine in Gila Co. He has leased the property to Wyoming Minerals. They reportedly offered 2 years advance royalty. He hopes to take the property to patent. 6/7/79 a.p.

NJN WR 2/21/86: Fred Hohne called seeking information regarding what qualified as assesment work. He reported that he is still with the Westinghouse subsidiary Wyoming Mineral Corp. (f) and manages their Gila county uranium properties. They have had problems with people entering their mine workings and are planning to put lockable entries on the protals for safety reasons. This activity will probably take place at the Lucky Stop Group (f) and Red Bluff Mine (f).

NJN WR 9/25/87: Fred Hohn (card) reported that he is no longer working for Wyoming Minerals Corp (file) but now works for Malapai Minerals, a subsidiary of Pinnacle West (APS). Most of what was Wyoming Minerals Corp has been sold to Energy Fuels and the rest in now called Westinghouse Minerals. Westinghouse still maintains their uranium properties in the Sierra Anchas and have hired a globe person to look after them. The properties include the Red Bluff (file) and the Lucky Stop (file) Gila County. The address for Westinghouse is 3900 S. wadsworth Blvd., Denver, Colorado. Hilde Tomooka is the company contact.
