ACCESS STATEMENT

These digitized collections are accessible for purposes of education and research. We have indicated what we know about copyright and rights of privacy, publicity, or trademark. Due to the nature of archival collections, we are not always able to identify this information. We are eager to hear from any rights owners, so that we may obtain accurate information. Upon request, we will remove material from public view while we address a rights issue.

CONSTRAINTS STATEMENT

The Arizona Geological Survey does not claim to control all rights for all materials in its collection. These rights include, but are not limited to: copyright, privacy rights, and cultural protection rights. The User hereby assumes all responsibility for obtaining any rights to use the material in excess of "fair use."

The Survey makes no intellectual property claims to the products created by individual authors in the manuscript collections, except when the author deeded those rights to the Survey or when those authors were employed by the State of Arizona and created intellectual products as a function of their official duties. The Survey does maintain property rights to the physical and digital representations of the works.

QUALITY STATEMENT

The Arizona Geological Survey is not responsible for the accuracy of the records, information, or opinions that may be contained in the files. The Survey collects, catalogs, and archives data on mineral properties regardless of its views of the veracity or accuracy of those data.

Mr. Yeargin was preparing to do his assessment work, but was confused by the effect of a series of law suits and court actions on his title to the claims. It seems he spent considerable money (over $100,000) on a partnership with some friends to develop the placer deposit. He further paid off their delinquent lease on the property from Les Bender and purchased the claims outright. Apparently, in the meantime his partners assigned the claims to Del Oro Placers. Del Oro Placers eventually sued in the State Court of Appeals awarded the claims to them and therefore, he no longer owns any interest in the claims.

The Marine Claims have AMC 31317 as their BLM lead file.
