FOR RELEASE MARCH 28

The Arizona Department of Mineral Resources has just released a 1973 Directory of County, State and Federal Agencies in Arizona that are of interest to people involved or interested in prospecting, mineral exploration and mining.

Since first issued ten years ago, the Directory has steadily grown in size as the number of governmental agencies regulating and serving the minerals industry has increased. The 1973 Directory contains listings for ninety five agencies. This is the first year that county agencies have been included.

The Directory lists agencies, pertinent personnel, addresses and telephone numbers. It is organized by cities and or districts for easy location of pertinent agencies.

The Directory is available free from the Arizona Department of Mineral Resources, Mineral Building, Fairgrounds, Phoenix, Arizona, 85007. Telephone (602) 258-6681.

Since first issued ten years ago, the Directory has steadily grown in size as the number of governmental agencies regulating and serving the minerals industry has increased. The 1973 Directory contains listings for ninety five agencies. This is the first year that county agencies have been included.

The Directory lists agencies, pertinent personnel, addresses and telephone numbers. It is organized by cities and or districts for easy location of pertinent agencies.

The Directory is available free from the Arizona Department of Mineral Resources, Mineral Building, Fairgrounds, Phoenix, Arizona, 85007. Telephone (602) 258-6681.
