ACCESS STATEMENT

These digitized collections are accessible for purposes of education and research. We have indicated what we know about copyright and rights of privacy, publicity, or trademark. Due to the nature of archival collections, we are not always able to identify this information. We are eager to hear from any rights owners, so that we may obtain accurate information. Upon request, we will remove material from public view while we address a rights issue.

CONSTRAINTS STATEMENT

The Arizona Geological Survey does not claim to control all rights for all materials in its collection. These rights include, but are not limited to: copyright, privacy rights, and cultural protection rights. The User hereby assumes all responsibility for obtaining any rights to use the material in excess of "fair use."

The Survey makes no intellectual property claims to the products created by individual authors in the manuscript collections, except when the author deeded those rights to the Survey or when those authors were employed by the State of Arizona and created intellectual products as a function of their official duties. The Survey does maintain property rights to the physical and digital representations of the works.

QUALITY STATEMENT

The Arizona Geological Survey is not responsible for the accuracy of the records, information, or opinions that may be contained in the files. The Survey collects, catalogs, and archives data on mineral properties regardless of its views of the veracity or accuracy of those data.

Map Reference #13

SUMMARY Paleozoic-age Abrigo limestone hosts massive gold-copper carbonate replacement deposits (CRD) that are of Jurassic (Bisbee)-age. The Star Hill deposit contains an estimated 650,000 tons grading 3.1% Cu and 0.12 opt Au. Several areas remain untested that could substantially expand this resource base.

PROPERTY Santa Fe Pacific Mining (SFPM) controls approximately five square miles of this historic mining district through leases of patented and unpatented claims, company held claims and two Arizona state prospecting permits. The area is located 15 miles due east of Tombstone, approximately 80 miles southeast of Tucson, Arizona.

GEOLOGY Multiple Jurassic-age monzonites intrude the lower Paleozoic carbonate section including Abrigo, Martin and Escabrosa limestones. Associated mineralization is an early Pb-Zn low grade skarn stage followed by Cu-Au carbonate replacement, upon which is superimposed a Tertiary-age gold event. Massive pyritic replacements are 10's to 100's of feet thick with margins further replaced by chalcopyrite/gold mineralization. The Star Hill deposit appears to be a preserved section of Abrigo limestone in a recumbent overturned fold, thrust over barren Cretaceous Bisbee formation. North-south and east-west structural intersections likely influence mineralization and the emplacement of multi-phased intrusion breccias which act as conduits to the carbonate replacements. (See map and cross section on back.)

PREVIOUS EXPLORATION The area has been widely explored by major mining companies since the mid-1950's. Union Oil partially delineated a chalcocite resource in intrusives, which in turn caused deeper exploration to be conducted by SFPM, resulting in the Star Hill discovery. SFPM has drilled 44 core holes through the deposit and the lower thrust surface on approximately 200' centers. In addition, IP/resistivity, ground magnetic surveys, as well as wide spaced drill holes in outlying areas, have defined other blind targets.

EXPLORATION TARGET Closer spaced surface drilling followed by a phased underground exploration program from a shaft or decline could likely triple the current resource estimate at Star Hill. Other near-surface drill targets at Maud Hill, Rat Canyon, the Flux Pit and the Northwest Extension of Star Hill offer additional opportunities to expand the resource base.

Pole says deposit which Union Oil worker
on is in Sec. 17,
~ 2 mi N. of Star Hill
- unknown reserves?

10/1/94

Lawrance,

Here is something maybe you can follow-up on - maybe talk w/ Dale, etc.

Gary
